The 'fine print':

In applying to become a member of Brisbane's Living Heritage Network Ltd, you agree with the aims and objectives of the Network as outlined in the BLHN Constitution (please read the extract below).

The objects of the Company are to:

- enhance and effectively share knowledge about Brisbane's heritage by promoting movable cultural heritage in the community;
- develop positive perceptions by residents, visitors and the broader community about Brisbane's heritage and heritage places;
- encourage positive heritage experiences through public programs, publications, marketing and outreach activities;
- provide training and professional development opportunities that encourage cultural heritage organisations to care for heritage places and collections.
- provide advocacy and support to Brisbane's cultural heritage community to develop and maintain partnerships with media, business, government and other cultural services organisations to the benefit of Brisbane's heritage places.
- improve levels of community access to Brisbane's movable cultural heritage collections and heritage places.

and to do all acts and things as may be deemed necessary or incidental to the achievement of similar objectives.
